My greatest appreciation is for the knowledge you shared in the class. As usual, I learned so much from you in each class from vision to frame. This was an incredibly clever way to present a lot of information. I loved walking away with a finished project. Genius! Cindy, you are great photographer and an awesome teacher.

It's really amazing how one can forge such great friendships in your workshops - you really have the knack for making it all fun, meaningful, challenging, and exhausting all at the same time - well conceived and perfectly executed.

Delighted to spend the weekend on Block Island with some great photographers and instructor extraordinaire, Cindy Horovitz Wilson. Learning to see and appreciate my surroundings through a black and white lens. Grateful ❤️<3 ❤️<3 ❤️

I'm home after an incredible four-day immersion into black and white photography with a wonderful group of photographers including the talented instructor, Cindy Horovitz Wilson. Joseph Campbell said, "The cave you fear you enter holds the treasure you seek." I'm glad I cast aside fear and dared to explore the possibilities outside my comfort zone. More will be revealed. Sweet dreams

The last day of our workshop was the hardest for me, Cindy Horovitz Wilson. For the first hour at these properties, I was entirely "in my head," fretting about settings and technical matters. Once I was able to "let go" and trust the process, I experienced creative freedom. Thank you for a great four days

The workshop was beyond my expectations. I truly enjoyed spending the weekend with this group of creative folks sharing my love of Block Island and my love of photography. Sign me up for the spring. I'm in.

Thank you for the information and for so clearly demystifying all the basic settings and terminology involved in photography! I have wanted to learn this for more than a couple decades. For the first time I understand it! Now to practice!!! I'm sure I will see you around SCAA.

Thanks so much for a great class. So much clarified in such an efficient, enjoyable and manageable set of meetings. Thanks Cindy and classmates, too.
